Dedication

The American Heritage Student Dictionary defines a parent in two simple words, "guardian; protector."

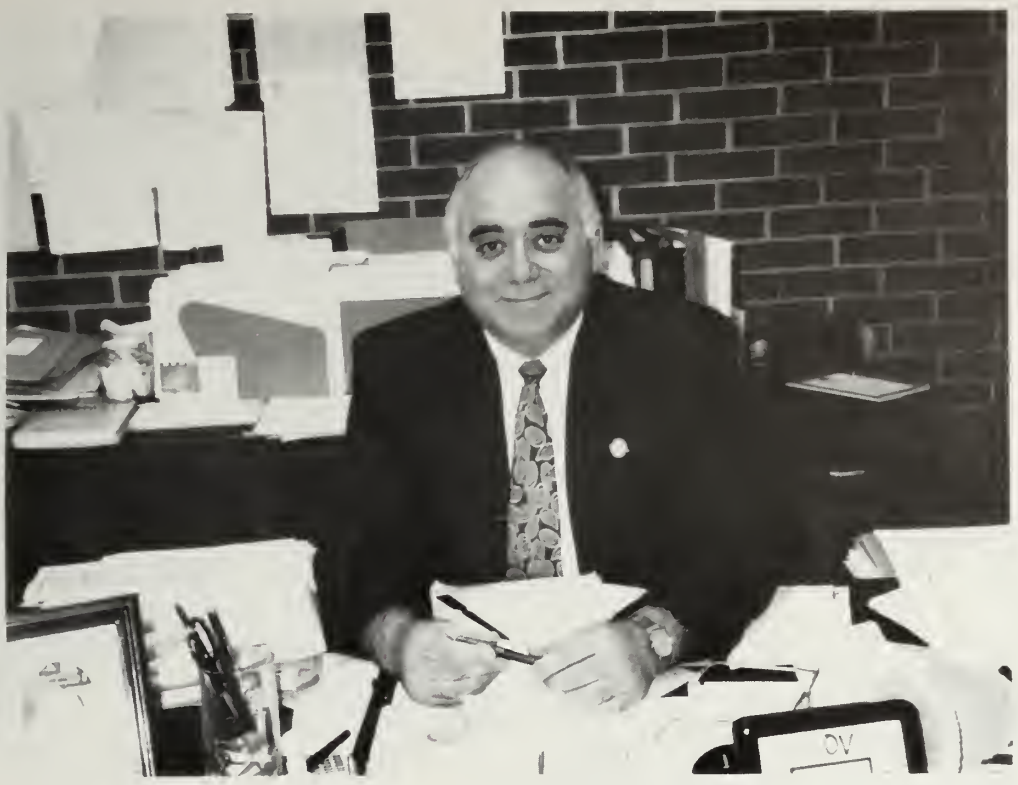
Although simple in definition, the role of a parent is anything but simple. As we explore new horizons, we may not seem to appreciate the guidance or protection that is given by a parent or even seem to realize the tremendous responsibilities that go along with the parenting role.

So when we butt heads Mom and Dad, remember that "I love you," and someday I will be very grateful for having the "Best Parents in the Whole Wide World."

We, the 8th grade class of Augustine J. Belmonte Saugus Middle School, dedicate this book to our parents for their unconditional love and devotion.

William P.Doyle
Superintendent of Saugus Public Schools

Charlotte A.Sciola
Assistant Superintendent of Curriculum



Dear Eighth Grader,

As I reflect on your past three (3) years at Belmonte Middle School I do so with a great sense of pride and appreciation for the wonderful contribution you have made to our middle school community. Your class has made a significant DIFFERENCE in building a positive climate and an atmosphere where learning excellence and caring have combined to make our middle school a nicer place for students, teachers, and parents.

As you move on to your high school careers you go with our best wishes for success. The high standards you have set for yourself will serve you well in the future. You will be missed but never forgotten. Thank you.

Sincerely,

John A. Serino, Jr.
